Respect for International Norms and Participation in External Initiatives

The Group supports international norms relating to human rights, such as those laid out by the International Bill of Human Rights, the International Labour Organization (ILO) and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. Additionally, the Group has participated in the United Nations Global Compact since 2011 and the IPIECA since 2013.

Organizational Structure

Under its Human Rights Policy, Sustainability Principles, Business Principles and Code of Conduct, the Group requires all officers and employees to comply with laws and regulations, respect social norms and perform their duties while adhering to the highest principles of ethical conduct. In order to ensure that corporate ethics and behavior adhere to the policy and principles, the Compliance Committee led by the director in charge of compliance and consisting of full-time directors and executive officers holds regular scheduled meetings as well as ad-hoc meetings as required.

The Statement has been approved by INPEX's Board of Directors and signed by Kenji Kawano, Representative Director, Senior Executive Vice President in charge of compliance of INPEX.

3. Initiatives Concerning the Prevention of Slavery and Human Trafficking

Respect of Human Rights through Business Risk Assessments

The Group voluntarily adopts the International Finance Corporation (IFC) Performance Standard and conducts studies on the possible environmental and social impact — including labor issues and the impact on human rights of its business activities in the areas where the Group operates. The Group first identifies the risks and then takes the appropriate actions, such as avoiding, mitigating or monitoring these risks.

Supply Chain Management

The Group is engaged in business activities with a variety of stakeholders including contractors, suppliers and joint venture partners.

The Group operates in Japan, Australia, Indonesia, UAE, Norway and Malaysia. Each of its operator projects requires supply chains management to supply goods and services. The Group procures approximately 300 billion yen per year in goods and services from approximately 2,000 contractors and suppliers. The Group takes appropriate actions to manage risks in our supply chain.

In carrying out procurement activities, all officers and employees strive to comply with relevant laws, social norms and Sustainability Principles in accordance with internal rules governing ethical procurement. The Group also requests its contractors and suppliers to respect the content of the principles included in the Human Rights Policy in the application and execution of contracted works. In 2022, the Group has formulated its Supplier Code of Conduct. This Supplier Code of Conduct outlines our expectations including human rights and labour rights of suppliers to strive for sustainability throughout supply chain. And in 2023, the Guideline for the Supplier Code of Conduct, which outlines concrete measures for each of our suppliers to conduct business in a manner that is expected in the Supplier Code of Conduct, has been formulated and introduced in the Supplier forum.

In addition, the Group identifies and assesses CSR risks in the evaluation of tenders. The Group appraises some existing contractors through questionnaires (reviewed by SA8000 Basic Auditor) and conducts CSR audits. As for the projects with a non-operating interest, the Group monitors operators' initiatives on human rights through questionnaires and follows up on them.

In order to raise awareness of human rights for not only officers and employees but also contractors, suppliers and their subcontractors, the Group displays a poster relating to the Human Rights Policy in its operated project sites and offices in Japan and outside of Japan.

Educational Activities and Whistle-Blowing System

The Group provides for the respect and upholding of human rights in its Human Rights Policy, Business Principles and Code of Conduct, which all officers and employees are required to comply with, and strives to enhance the awareness of officers and employees through its intranet. The Group also proactively promotes employee education on compliance including human rights by providing web based human rights training for executives and employees, training to employees and issuing internal newsletters on compliance issues. In addition, the Group promotes whistle-blowing by providing officers and employees with a Helpline consisting of both internal and external desks, as well as the INPEX Global Hotline(*) under its whistle-blowing system (<https://www.sustainability-report.inpex.co.jp/fy2022/en/compliance/framework-of-compliance.html> ). Serious compliance violations are dealt with in the appropriate manner and disclosed in the INPEX sustainability report issued annually. The Group also reports annually through the sustainability report the performance data related to human rights.

(*) In June 2020, INPEX established the INPEX Global Hotline which supplemented the already existing Helpline. The purpose of the Global Hotline is to detect and immediately correct compliance violations in relation to three areas: (1) bribery and corruption, (2) antitrust laws (competition laws), and (3) accounting fraud, which are the risks assessed to be particularly high for our business.

4. Future Efforts

The Group will ensure it fulfills its social responsibilities to the local communities in which it conducts business and contributes to the creation of a sustainable society through prioritizing protection of health and safety of stakeholders as well as ongoing in-house training on human rights issues and enhanced human rights management including the prevention of slavery and human trafficking in its whole supply chain through their Due Diligence.
